The vote of the city was about five hundred short of the election last week at the State election.

—The late election has inspired a lively and joyous feeling among the Democrats of Jeffersonville, Ind. Last night they attempted to get up a jollification, consisting of speeches, firing cannon, bon-fires, etc., with the following result: The cannon, by some mismanagement, was accidently discharged, and Edward Tobin, one of the gunners, received probably fatal injuries. WASHINGTON, PA.

Continuation of Synodical Report—The Foreign Missionary Work—The Case of Rev. W. M. White—The Sabbath School Work.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

WASHINGTON, October 20, 1874.

The Synod convened at 9 o'clock, and was opened with prayer. Routine business occupied most of the forenoon.

Rev. Dr. Lowrie of New York, one of the Secretaries of the Board of Foreign Missions, addressed the Synod with reference to the missionary work of the church, setting forth its claims, and dwelling at some length upon the difficulties and encouragements attending the cause of evangelization. And the sessions of the forenoon were concluded with devotional exercises.

In the afternoon the report on work among the Freedmen was discussed, and the Secretary, Rev. A. ? McClelland, of Pittsburgh, was heard in explanation of the plans and work of the committee.

At the second order of the afternoon Rev. Mr. Boyd was received as a delegate from the United Presbyterian Synod of Pittsburgh, and addressed the Synod in a very happy and fraternal speech to which the Moderator responded on behalf of Synod.

Judicial case No. 1 was then taken up, being the appeal and complaint of Rev. W. M. White against a decision of the Presbytery of Washington, refusing to restore him to the office of the ministry from which they had suspended him.

Mr. White was heard in support of his appeal, and was followed by Rev. Dr. Brownson, defending the Presbytery—both able and eloquent efforts.

The evening session was occupied with discussions on Sabbath school work. The first topic was opened by Rev. S. F. Scovel, and the second by J. Bennett Tyler, Esq., Superintendent of Sabbath school interests in the Presbyterian Church, and they were followed by other members of the Synod. The large audience room of the First church was densely filled with an audience rarely exceeded in intelligence and who gave witness of their interest by unflagging attention to the close.

The judicial case will be the order for to-morrow. H.

MONDAY MORNING the body of a woman was found in the woods, a short distance from Corry, on the Crossent road. When found she was almost devoid of clothing, and had probably lain there for about a week. There were no marks of violence on her person to indicate that she had been foully dealt with, and nothing but a few photographs by which a clue to her identity could be given. No one appeared to know her or ever to have seen her before. The authorities will investigate the matter.

NEW YORK.

Proceedings of the Episcopal Convention.

The London Syndicate Settling with the Treasury.

NEW YORK, October 20, 1874.

Beecher-Tilton.

A motion was made yesterday by the counsel for Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, that Theodore Tilton should be compelled to furnish a bill of particulars of the damages which he charges in his complaint. Judge Neilson remarked that the application for a bill of particulars in such a case was rather extraordinary, and that the damages could hardly be rendered in items. He then signed the order to show cause, making it returnable on Thursday morning.

Episcopal Convention.

In the Episcopal Convention the Committee on Canons recommended concurrence of the House in the amendment to Section 7, Canon 13, Title 1, relating to a standing commission in missionary jurisdictions, as proposed by the message from the House of Bishops. The report was placed on the calendar. A message from the House of Bishops was read, concurring with the House of Deputies in the division of the diocese of Ohio and Michigan.

Rev. Dr. Hall, of Long Island, on behalf of the Committee on Amendments to the Constitution, to whom was referred a resolution directing them to consider whether any Constitutional amendments were necessary to empower the General Convention of this Church to set off a missionary territory from the bounds of the diocese at the request of said diocese, reported that there was no provision whatever in regard to missions in the Constitution of the Church.

The House went into secret session. It was stated, when a recess was taken for lunch, that a conclusion would be arrived at to-morrow in the case of Bishop-elect Seymour. The session will be open to the public from that time. It is understood that a vote will be taken in secret.

At the afternoon session the following messages were received from the House of Bishops: Message No. 27.

Resolved, The House of Clerical and Lay Deputies concurring, that Canon 19, Title 1, be amended as follows, by adding the following: "Section 2. Bishops, priests and deacons in their respective offices and cures shall be diligent in the inculcation, both publicly and in private, of pastoral teaching for Christian or holiness of life, by due maintenance of family worship, the religious training of children in the observance of baptismal vows, in such abstinence from gaming and amusements, involving cruelty to the brute creation, theatrical representations and light and vain amusements, tending to withdraw affection from spiritual things, as is required by the apostolic injunction, not to be conformed to this world."

Message 28. The House of Bishops gives its consent to the consecration of Rev. E. R. Wells as Bishop of Wisconsin, and has requested the presiding Bishop to take an order for the same. These were placed on the calendar.

The following message was also received and referred to the Committee on Canons: Message No. 29.

Resolved, The House of Clerical and Lay Deputies concurring, that Canon 8 of Title 2 be amended to read as follows: "Canon 8. Of abandonment of communion of the Church by Bishops. If any Bishop shall, without availing himself of the provisions of Section 2 of Canon 13, Title 1, abandon communion of this Church, it shall be the duty of the Standing Committee of the diocese and said Bishop to make a certificate of the fact to the presiding Bishop, together with a statement of acts or declarations which prove such abandonment, which certificate shall be recorded by the presiding Bishops, and the presiding Bishop, with the consent of three Bishops next in seniority, shall then suspend said Bishop from the exercise of his office and ministry until such time as the House of Bishops shall consent or refuse to consent to his deposition. Notice shall then be given to said Bishop by the Bishop receiving the certificate that unless he shall within six months make a declaration that the facts alleged in said certificate are false, he will be deposed from the ministry, and if such declaration be not made within six months as aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the presiding Bishop to convene the House of Bishops, and if a majority of the whole number of Bishops entitled at the time to seats in the House of Bishops shall at such meeting give their consent, said presiding Bishop, or senior Bishop present, shall proceed to depose from the ministry the Bishop so certified as abandoning, and pronounce and record in the presence of two or more Bishops that he has been so deposed. Provided, nevertheless, that if the Bishops so certified as abandoning shall transmit to the presiding Bishop a retraction of the acts or declarations constituting his offense, the Bishop may, at his discretion, abstain from any further proceedings."

It was stated by several delegates that the question on the confirmation of Bishop elect Seymour will be put to a vote to-morrow afternoon, and the sessions thenceforward will be conducted openly.

The London Syndicate Settling with the Treasury.

The Post says the Rothschild-Seligman Syndicate have made their settlements with the Treasury for November and December, which means that they have sent into the Treasury 5-20 bonds which have been called, and on which interest ceases on November 1st and December 1st, so that calculations that the Treasury will have to pay out any considerable amount of gold for those bonds will be at fault. The amount of called bonds maturing on November 1st is $25,000,000, and the amount maturing on December 1st is $10,000,000. One of the chief reasons for the rise in 'change is that securities are coming here from Europe in considerable amounts. It is understood that a large amount of Erie shares are on the way from London, as well as United States bonds from German markets, the latter having been ordered here because this has been the highest market.

Private advices from Germany say there is considerable uneasiness because of a recent declaration of two States in favor of redeeming United States bonds in greenbacks instead of coin.

Meeting of the P. E. Board of Missions.

At a meeting of the Board of Missions of the P. E. Church, this evening, the Committee on Foreign Missions reported in favor of dividing the dioceses of China and Japan into three dioceses. They also recommend that an Episcopate should be established in the Republic of Hayti, over which a colored Bishop should be appointed, and requesting the home Bishops to appoint one as soon as possible. The reports were adopted. Missionary addresses were delivered by the Bishop of Kingston, Jamaica, and Rev. Dr. Nelson, of China.

Billiards.

A complimentary testimonial exhibition of billiards was given to William Cook, the English champion, at Tammany Hall, to-night, consisting of a series of short games between Garnier, Rudolphe, Ubassy, the two Dions, Daly, and the newly arrived French champion, Vignaux, the latter of whom carried off the honors. At the close a testimonial was presented to Cook, and it was announced that a grand national tournament would be commenced on November 4th. The game will be played by the Dion brothers.

Rumored Erie Loan.

There was a report on the street this morning that Erie has closed a loan for $3,000,000 in the London market, at a price below previous negotiations.

Bold Bank Robbery in New Hampshire—The Cashier Compelled to Accompany the Thieves to the Bank and Open the Safe.

NASHUA, N. H., October 20.—The Souhegan National Bank, of Milford, was robbed last night, by masked men, of about $100,000 in currency and bonds. The robbers previously visited the residence of the cashier, and compelled him to accompany them to the bank and open the safe. Professionals undoubtedly planned the robbery in advance. The Cashier, Sawyer, has long been in the habit of leaving the keys of the bank in possession of the postmaster of the town, whose office is about a quarter of a mile from the residence of Sawyer. This precaution was taken by the latter in order to guard against such a scheme as that followed out by the robbers. The parties engaged in the robbery seemed to be well aware of the disposition of the keys, and after placing a cord around Sawyer's neck to prevent any outcry, forced him to accompany them by threatening to kill his babe in case he refused to comply with their demands. Arriving at the postoffice, the robbers effected an entrance by removing a pane of glass with a diamond, and the keys of the bank were soon in their possession.

Outrages by a German Sloop-of-War in the Navigator Islands.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 20.—S. S. Foster, United States Consul at Opia, in the Navigator group of islands, says he was at that port about last May when the German sloop-of-war Aucona came here. The commander levied $20,000 upon the native chief, but through the intervention of American missionaries reduced the claim to $14,000. Five thousand dollars of the amount was paid, and bonds taken for the remainder, payable in two years at one per cent. per month interest. The sloop sailed to another harbor near Opia, seized lands in dispute between Germans and natives, burned houses, and sailed away. He says he was an eye witness to these transactions.

FOREIGN.

SPAIN.

Don Alphonso's Successor.

HENDAYE, October 20.—Gen. Roda has been appointed to command the Carlist army in place of Don Alphonso.

No Surrender of Carlists.

LONDON, October 21—5:30 A. M.—Special dispatches to the Times from Spain say that the negotiations for the surrender of Carlist battalions commanded by Bernaola and Gerodo have apparently failed.

Destruction by Carlists.

The Carlists on Sunday burned a manufactory and some houses within sight of the Republican lines before Bilboa. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

A False Story.

The story of a rising against Don Carlos in the Basque provinces is false. It originated in the conduct of an eccentric member of the Carlist Provincial deputation who spoke disrespectfully of Don Carlos, and vehemently advocated peace. A proposal to shoot him created much excitement among his friends, which is the only foundation for the reported revolt.

FRANCE.

Councils Organizing.

PARIS, October 20.—Fifty-seven of the recently elected Councils have organized, twenty-seven choosing Republican Presidents.

The Mayor of Nice Dismissed.

The Mayor of Nice has been dismissed for recommending the election of persons favoring the separation of Nice from France.

A Sensation Spoiled.

BAYONNE, October 20.—There is no truth in the report of the assassination of Buckland, the correspondent of the New York Times, and Jerrard, a representative of the English Carlist Committee.

GERMANY.

Count Von Arnim's Case.

BERLIN, October 20.—A Judge will leave this city for Paris for the purpose of examining officials at the German Embassy in that city, thus expediting the trial of Count von Arnim.

THE CAPITAL.

WASHINGTON, October 20, 1874.

Trial of the Alleged Safe Burglars.

The trial of the alleged safe burglary conspirators was begun to-day. Whitley asked a postponement of his case till the next term, which was denied. Nettleship sought a postponement to give him time to produce Ex-Solicitor Banfield and another witness. His request was denied and his recognizances declared forfeited. The Court took a recess to examine the plea of Harrington and Williams that the Grand Jury that found a true bill against them was not properly constituted.

After the recess Assistant Attorney General Hill, for the Government, filed a demurrer to the plea of abatement. Mr. Davidge, for Harrington and Williams, joined the issue. Mr. Riddle, special Government counsel, said the same question had been before the Court three times, and unless the Court proposed to reverse its former decisions, the counsel for the Government would not argue the case.

Judge Humphreys said he would hear the argument in support of the plea, and if any new point were presented he would then hear from the Government.

Mr. Henkle read and sustained the plea of abatement, and argued that the laws had not been complied with, and claimed that a citizen could not be legally tried on an indictment found by a body not drawn or selected in strict conformity to the law.

Mr. Davidge said he would not trouble the Court with an argument. He had merely filed the plea pro forma for the purpose of saving the point, and was willing to take the decision of the Court.

Mr. Hill suggested that the Court rule pro forma on the point, overruling the abatement plea, and let the case proceed. The counsel might then note an exception and argue the abatement before a full bench.

Mr. Davidge consented, but Mr. Henkle insisted upon a ruling of the Court upon the merits of the plea in abatement.

Judge Humphreys said he would sustain the demurrer, but if at any time during the trial the Court should see that this is an erroneous decision, he would reverse it. He would not enter the demurrer till to-morrow.

Mr. Riddle asked that Whiteley be required to give bail in the sum of $10,000 for his appearance from day to day for trial.

His own recognizance was taken for that amount, and the Court adjourned.

Proceedings of the Presbyterian Synod of Northern Illinois—The Case of Prof. Swing Again Discussed.

CHICAGO, October 20.—In the Presbyterian Synod of Northern Illinois, to-day, Mr. Noyes proceeded with his argument against the acception of the majority report as given yesterday. He contended that it is contrary to the law of the Church. There is no precedent in favor of Prof. Patton. There are precedents against him, and that justice to the accused party forbids that he should longer claim the part of a prosecutor. He held that by the law of the Church only the aggrieved party could complain. Patton cannot by right appeal. If the prosecutor had been censured by the Presbytery, then he would have been an aggrieved party, and could have appealed from any definitive sentence, but could not again involve the defendant, who had been acquitted. In support of his point he cited many cases from the Digest and from the ecclesiastical law of the Latin, English and Scottish Churches. In conclusion, Mr. Noyes asked that the report of the judicial committee be laid on the table and that the prosecutor withdraw his appeal.

Prof. Patton then took the floor and spoke at length and in detail. He said he appealed because that was the only way of preventing Mr. Swing from re-entering the pulpit. He held that an aggrieved party could appeal, and that he was an aggrieved party, because unless he sustained his case he was by the law of the Church an offender and slanderer.

Subsequently a vote was taken, when the Synod agreed, by a respectable majority, to allow an appeal to come before the body. The first order for the session to-morrow is the discussion of the appeal by the Synod.

Affairs in Louisiana—A Political Compromise in Jefferson Parish—Competition in Towing and Telegraphing from the Passes to New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, October 20.—A compromise has been effected in Jefferson Parish between the Conservatives and Republicans. The Republicans nominated the Coroner, Sheriff, two members of the Legislature and one Senator, and the Conservatives one member of the Legislature and Parish Judge. The Conservative and Republican clubs then resolved jointly to support John Ellis, the Conservative candidate for Congress.

The new telegraph line the Ocean Tow Boat Co. are building to the passes is now working to Pass a L'Outre. The tolls have been reduced one-half, there being strong opposition between the Ocean and Good Intent Tow Boat Companies. Tonnage has also been greatly reduced, the regular nominal rate being one dollar per ton up and back, but owing to active competition vessels are frequently towed up and down for fifty cents per ton, which is but little more than one-third the former rates.

The Railway War in Indiana.

CHICAGO, October 20.—The Circuit Court of Porter county, Indiana, recently decided that the Michigan Central Railroad should permit the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad to cross its track near Lake station, in that county. This right, however, the Central officials refused to accord, and when the employes of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad were sent to lay the track, yesterday, they were met by a large force of men, sent out by the Central to stop the work, and a collision was threatened. As stated in a dispatch last night, the county Sheriff, with a posse, attempted to disperse the mob, but was forcibly compelled to fall back. He then read the riot act and stated the penalties for a resistance of the law, and attempted the arrest of some of the ring-leaders, but was unable to do so. This morning, it is stated, steps were taken to effect an amicable settlement of the difficulty, with every prospect of success.

Later.—A telegram from Lake station, Indiana, states that upon the arrival of the two companies ordered by Gov. Hendericks to proceed to the point where trouble between the Michigan Central and Baltimore & Ohio Railroad employes was reported, they deployed to the number of one hundred and twenty, armed with breech loaders and two Gateing guns. The Michigan Central men stood their ground, though unarmed. The companies had received orders and were about to charge when Chief Engineer Gardner stepped forward and requested a parley. This was granted. He then gave himself up to the authorities, and the whole party were arrested. Subsequently a majority of them were released and the prominent ones retained and taken to Valparaiso. The crossing was finished by evening, and all trouble is over.

Terrific Boiler Explosion.

NEW ALBANY, IND., October 20.—This morning about 7 o'clock the boilers in the pork house of Messrs. Mitchell & Co. exploded with terrific force, tearing the boiler to atoms and severely scalding four persons, one of whom has since died. The boilers were blown into the air to a heighth of fifty feet, and carried two hundred feet from their original position. The fire in the furnace set the building on fire, but it was soon extinguished. The engineer says there was but forty pounds of steam. This appears almost incredible when the effects of the explosion are witnessed.

SECOND EDITION.

LOUISIANA.

Gov. Kellogg and Marshal Packard Interviewed.

The Charge of Wholesale Arrests Denied.

Meeting of the Conference Committees.

NEW ORLEANS, October 20.—"Great apprehensions" and "serious alarm" were the terms used by the Conservative politicians here yesterday as indicating the present condition of the people of the State. From Shreveport came another batch of "grave apprehensions," "serious alarm for the safety of women and children," "a reign of terror," &c., and Bayou Sara and St. Martinville rendered public assistance with the view of gathering information on the subject of wholesale arrests, which it was charged Federal officers were about making, and which had produced the effect stated above in oppressing the political mind. The agent of the Associated Press called on Gov. Kellogg and Marshal Packard to-day, and telegraphed elsewhere, with the results given below. Gov. Kellogg stated that he had heard but little of these matters, that he could give no information on the subject of arrests, but they had been greatly exaggerated. The Governor expressed a desire for a peaceful and fair election, and is exerting himself to that end.

Alleged Wholesale Arrests Denied.

Regarding wholesale arrests, Marshal Packard stated that affidavits had been made against thirty persons charged with participating in the Coushatta outrage, but has not heard that any arrest has been made. When arrested, these parties will be taken before the United States Commissioner for a preliminary examination, and cannot be removed from the parish unless sent before a United States Court. There are indictments against seventy or one hundred persons in Grant parish on account of participation in the Colfax masacre, but Deputy Marshals are instructed not to take any one out of the parish till after the election. The Marshal thinks it probable a few rascals may be frightened away, but no honest citizen will be molested, nor have they anything to fear.

Affairs in Shreveport.

The following was received to-day:

"SHREVEPORT, October 20.—No arrest has been made as yet, and reports are conflicting as to whether or not warrants have been issued. Several gentlemen are said to have had interviews with the United States Commissioner yesterday, and they were given to understand that affidavits had been made against seventy citizens of this place charging them with violation of the enforcement act. This the Commissioner denies. A meeting held by citizens of Shreveport which adopted resolutions not to employ Republicans, nor to advance supplies to those who did not sign this resolution, was the offense they committed."

The Jackson Riot.

The following was received to-night:

"BAYAU SARA, La., October 20.—The statements concerning the Jackson affair published in yesterday's papers are incorrect. Judge Hilbourn, Senator W. Breaux, Low and others were peaceably conversing in Low's office, when the house they were in was fired into by P. C. Butler, a friend of Gair, who also shot at a peaceable assemblage of whites and blacks, and compelled the band in attendance to disperse.

"O. G. REYNOLDS."

Outrages from either side seem to be greatly exaggerated.

Meeting of the Conference Committees.

The Conference Committees met this evening, and adjourned finally without accomplishing anything. The Republicans submitted the following:

"NEW ORLEANS, October 20.—Additional article of agreement to constitute a part of the agreement heretofore entered into between the Committee of Conference of the Democratic and Conservative party and the Republican party. Third. The powers of the Advisory Board are hereby extended to such measures as may be agreed upon by the board as are calculated to enforce a strict and fair adherance to the provision of the first article of this agreement, to the extent of calling upon the constituted authorities of the United States, both civil and military, and of the State, through Governor Kellogg, for such power and force as may be required, and both parties pledge themselves to adhere to and comply with the requisites and disposition of said Advisory Board in regard to the maintaining of peace and order throughout the State, and the insuring of a fair registration and election, free from intimidation, either direct or indirect."

Meeting of the Republican State Central Committee.

The Republican State Central Committee met yesterday to consider a communication from the Conservatives for reopening the Conference for the purpose of electing an umpire of the Advisory Board in place of Bonzano, resigned, and adopted a preamble and resolution stating that the Republicans had faithfully carried out the provisions of the compact, while their opponents had failed or evaded the requirements of the first article of the agreement, and refused to reopen the conference unless the Conservatives gave guarantees of good faith regarding the first article, and that some line of action be agreed upon compelling adherence thereto. In response to the above, the Democratic and Conservative State Central Committee adopted the following:

Resolved, That the Conservative members of the Conference Committee are hereby authorized and empowered to renew the conference in relation to filling the vacancy of M. F. Bonzano, and other matters suggested by the resolutions of the Republican State Central Committee.

ALBERT VOORHIES,
President of Democratic and Conservative State Central Committee.

A Counter Proposition.

In answer to the proposition submitted by the Republican members of the Conference Committee, the Democratic and Conservative members of the Conference Committee submit as a counter proposition that they cannot inquire into the alleged violation of the agreement by Conservatives or recognize the right of Republicans to make said changes until the Republican members of the Conference Committee establish as a fact that the agreement has been complied with on their part, by having qualified, as agreed upon, two Conservative members of the Returning Board and an umpire, and the Advisory Board to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. Bonzano, and submit the counter proposition with the emphatic statement that the Conservatives have up to the present time strictly complied with the requirements of the original contract.

Answer to the Counter Proposition.

NEW ORLEANS, October 20.—In answer to the counter proposition submitted by the Democratic and Conservative Conference Committee, in answer to the proposition submitted by the Republican Conference Committee embodying a third article to be made part of the original agreement entered into by said Committees of Conference, said third article being for the enforcement of the first article, the Republican Committee of Conference respectfully submit that the counter proposition presented contemplates a violation of the instructions given by the Republican State Central Committee to their representatives as embodied in the resolution of that committee communicated to the State Central Committee of the Democratic and Conservative party, and acquiesced in by the latter committee in a resolution adopted and communicated to the Republican State Central Committee. Consequently the counter proposition operates as a cessation of any further deliberations by the Committees of Conference, for the Republican Committee of Conference cannot act outside of the expressed determination of both Central Committees.

O. O. OLROCHA,
Chairman Republican Committee of Conference.

Reply to Counter Proposition.

NEW ORLEANS, October 20.—In answer to your reply to our counter proposition, we have only to state that there is nothing in the following resolution of the Democratic Conservative State Central Committee which conflicts with the action taken by the Conservative members of the Conference Committee, as appears by its obvious tenor:

Resolved, That the Conservative members of the Conference Committee are hereby authorized and empowered to renew the conference in relation to filling the vacancy of M. F. Bonzano, and other matters suggested by the resolutions of the Republican State Central Committee.

(A correct copy.)
WM. J. BUDDENDORFF, Secretary.
D. F. KINNER, Chairman.

Provision was made for a meeting of the National Council of the Union League at Cincinnati in January next. A committee was appointed to prepare an address to the Union Leagues of the United States. President Grant and his administration were endorsed.

The Bridal Boquet

was the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Palmer. It is a large mound-shaped basket, thirty-six inches across and twenty-four in heighth, filled with the finest tube and tea roses. In the centre is a humming bird perched over its nest.

Preparing for the Ceremony.

At three o'clock the bridal party entered the parlor, where the ceremony was to take place, in the following order: U. S. Grant, Jr., and Miss M. T. Hall, Mr. A. C. Monroe and Miss L. Houston, Lieut. C. W. Laued and Miss Irene Rucker, General G. A. Forsythe and Miss Mary C. Dunlevy. The bridesmaids wore white tulle dresses, with veils, and carried in their hands boquets in satin holders. After them came the bride, leaning on the arm of her father. She wore a white satin dress cut en traine, with tulle. The bridal veil, which reached to the floor, was of white sain tulle, and the dress, which was of exceedingly rich material, was rather plainly made. Her hair was dressed in a simple coif and chatelaine braids behind. The groom was dressed in the full uniform of a Colonel in the United States army. The party walked slowly down the parlor until the west end of the room was reached. At this point there is an alcove in the room, and in this the bridal party stood. The windows of the room were draped with lace curtains, trimmed with blue and decorated with smilax, excepting the one on the right of the bridal party, which was covered by a buff-colored curtain, through which a subdued light came, which brought out in strong relief the white costumes of the bridesmaids in contrast with the maroon-colored walls of the alcove.

As the party reached the alcove they fronted towards the guests, while the attendant bridesmaids and groomsmen stood on either side.

The Ceremony.

Rev. Isaac Errett, pastor of the Christian Church, of which the bride's family are members, then repeated the marriage ceremony of that Church, which is exceedingly brief and simple.

The guests and bridal party then proceeded to the dining room, which is a spacious apartment, and was elaborately decorated. An elegant collation provided by a noted caterer in the city was partaken of. The floral decorations were arranged with excellent taste, and were as follows: The centre piece was of natural flowers, and four feet in heighth, placed on a silver flower centre piece with gilded arms and pendant chains, and was in the shape of a half globe. It stood exactly in the centre of the table, and was composed of camelias, tuberoses, white carnations, white and red beannardias, smilax, and several varieties of flowers. On one side of the table stood a large tart cake, surmounted by a shield and two flags, inscribed with the date of the marriage and with the monograms of the wedded pair.

After the wedding there was a reception, which lasted from four till six o'clock.

LOUISVILLE, KY., October 20.—Some twenty-seven delegates, representing Missouri, Illinois, Kentucky and Indiana, to the capital removal convention, met in Public Library Hall this morning, and organized with Judge John Elliott, of Kentucky, as President. Various addresses were made by the delegates upon the subject in hand, and the convention afterward adjourned to meet in the parlors of the Galt House in the evening.

At the evening session resolutions were passed expressing the necessity of the removal of the National Capital to some point in the Mississippi valley, and calling upon Congress to take action in that direction. A committee was appointed to memorialize Congress and a standing executive committee of twenty appointed. The convention then adjourned sine die.

Indictments by the Salt Lake Grand Jury—13,000 Polygamists in Utah.

SALT LAKE, October 20.—Eighteen indictments have been brought in by the Grand Jury. It is stated that some of the murders committed in the Territory years ago are being investigated, but it is probable that most of the indictments found are for polygamy.

The News this evening computes the number of polygamists in the Territory at 1,000 men, 3,000 women, and 9,000 children, and the cost and loss by punishment of all at two million dollars, and that the courts would have around them 3,000 crying women and 9,000 crying children.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 110⅛.

BISMARCK evidently finds it necessary to look to his laurels. He is reported to threaten resignation, if he is not sustained in his fight against Von Arnim.

BURGLARS in Nashua, New Hampshire, have an improved method of procedure. They compelled the cashier of a bank to go with them from his house to the bank, open the safe, which they robbed of $100,000.

EX-CHIEF WHITELY and others, formerly connected with the Secret Service, were placed on trial yesterday, for the part they are alleged to have taken in the safe burglary. The facts in the case will soon be brought to light.

NEW YORK is more fortunate in dealing with embezzlers of State moneys than Pennsylvania has been. Phelps, tried and convicted on this charge, has been sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment. He goes from an important and responsible office to an important and tolerably secure prison.

THE shooting of Cecil Buckland, by the Spaniards, is likely to give Marshal Serrano another opportunity to pay a considable sum in the way of indemnity to the English Government. It is probable that this sum will be enforced promptly, as, if intelligence received is reliable, the murder was entirely an act of malice.

WE FORGETFULLY omitted to mention, at the time of donning our new suit of type, that the firm of Collins & McLeester, of Philadelphia, supplied it. We can refer to the clear-cut, beautiful face of the type to illustrate the remark that the firm above mentioned are worthy the patronage of any who desire the best and most modern styles of type.

JUDGE PETTIS, of Meadville, publishes a letter in the Meadville Republican, explaining the difficulties which attended the conference to nominate a candidate for Congress in the district composed of Crawford, Butler and Mercer. In our view Judge Pettis makes a clear and satisfactory explanation of his course in conceding the nomination to Mr. White, and fully accept his statement that it was done in the interest of the party at large in the District. The Judge is perfectly loyal to the nomination made, and pledges Mr. White the most earnest support. We wish this wretched conference system could be ended. Were Congressional Conventions held, comprising delegates from the entire District, there would be less delay, expense and trouble. But we are glad to know that Mr. White, in the District mentioned, is quite sure of success.

WHAT IT DOES.

It is very evident that the workingmen in the various parts of the State are not entirely blind to the situation of affairs. Joshua Hunt, an ironworker at Catasauqua, Lehigh county, this State, has addressed a letter to his fellow workingmen, so full of clear statements, and weighty truths, that we excerpt from it several paragraphs. It meets, candidly, the existing situation, when he says: "In the iron manufacture, which is the most important business of our State, there is great depression, and we cannot look for good times till it revives, for all other business interests depend upon it. It employs the miners by consuming ores and creating a demand for fuel, it freights our railroads, and makes a market for farm products. The workmen in our mines and mills and furnaces are the chief consumers of domestic goods, and it is because they are unemployed and unable to buy that our woolen and cotton factories have reduced time of work, cut down wages, and stopped production. This again reacts disastrously upon the coal trade, upon the railroads, the manufacturers of chemicals and dye stuffs, and upon all other industries."

Turning to the causes of the depression, he makes it very clear, that the source of our troubles is in the English influence on prices. He also suggests, while he does not specifically mention, that the reduction of English prices represents a vigorous struggle to gain control of the American market, and illustrates the means by which it is hoped to do it. "Our chief trouble is that in England there has been such a great reduction in the wages of miners and of workmen in iron and other industries, and such an immense decline in the prices of English goods, that, during the past year we have had a constantly falling market, which has forced successive reductions of prices and wages here, and has made buyers hold off and wait until the bottom would be reached. I think that this point has been reached, and that demand will spring up, and our labor will be employed again with a gradual increase of wages if we can retain the duties upon foreign goods enacted by a Republican Congress for the protection of home industry."

He gives the figures to show, that the tariff of $6.30 per ton on pig iron $12.60 per ton on iron rails; $20 to $30 on bar iron; and $25.20 per ton on steel rails, is the only thing that enables our manufacturers, at the present, to give any employment to the working men, and then adds: "You can easily see that bad as our situation is it might be made worse. Repeal the duties and it would be hopeless. They are a strong dyke, a wall, which the Republican party has built up around the industries of the country to keep out the overwhelming flood of cheap foreign goods. While it stands we cannot be destroyed. The Democratic party has determined to break down this wall, and we are asked to help them by voting to put them in power. In their State Conventions of this year, as in past years, they have denounced protection and demanded a tariff for revenue only, or declared in favor of Free Trade. In Pennsylvania alone they are silent. They know that our mines have stopped, that our rolling mills have suspended, that furnaces are out of blast, that factories are idle, and that thousands of unemployed workingmen look forward to the coming winter with the fear of suffering for themselves and their families, and they know, too, that their party from Maine to Missouri have united to destroy the tariff which is our sole protection against utter ruin—yet they make no protest, they have no word to say in our defense—their platform is ominously silent on this most important subject."

We commend the pithly sentences that follow as worthy the most careful reading of every workingman. They represent clear, emphatic truths, and cannot be too earnestly considered: "I would say to the workingmen of Pennsylvania, the choice is placed before you of sustaining and voting for your friends or your foes. If you want to keep business unsettled and disturbed, and knock down prices and wages still lower, vote the Democratic ticket. If you want to still further depress and ruin home industry, vote the Democratic ticket. If you want to close our own work shops and enrich foreign manufacturers, vote the Democratic ticket. If you love Great Britain more than you do your own land and its people, vote the Democratic ticket. We have to pay the interest on the national debt and the expenses of the national Government, amounting to an immense sum of money annually, which must be raised in good part, as at present, by duties, or wholly by direct taxation. If, like the Maine Democrats, you object to having this money collected at the New York custom-house from duties on German broadcloth, English iron and steel, and French silks, and would prefer to have a United States tax levied on your house and lot or other property—vote the Democratic ticket."

DEMANDS OF THE HOUR.

Were the Democracy to present itself before us, and distinctly say, we purpose and desire to close one-half the furnaces, rolling mills, manufactories, and other places where our resources are put in manufactured shape, it would at once be said that this is an impudent and outrageous proposition, and it would be spurned with indignation. Yet this is exactly what they do say, only they clothe the statement in tortuous and misleading verbiage. In every State that we can think of, except Pennsylvania, they have declared for Free Trade. Here their Convention met in our city, with the smoke of our manufactories around them, and the hum of our industries and the clang of our manufactories sounding upon their ears, yet they deliberately avoided every expression that would serve to commit their party in this State to the policy on which our prosperity depends. Does any one think this to have been accidental? If not, what motive influenced them? Did they deem the question unimportant? It is evident they did not, for in other States, all around us, the utterances of the party were particularly distinct and forcible on that subject.

In meeting this problem, it will be noticed that there were two very strong reasons that would serve to impel the Democracy in this State to the course they pursued. If they said nothing, they would not be antagonistic to their party elsewhere in the country. Where a great national question is up, a political party ought not to divide on it. And then, if it said nothing, it could not be charged as having uttered a word against Protection. It was between two fires. It would not do to proclaim Free Trade in Pennsylvania; nor would it answer to oppose the teachings of its party elsewhere. What then? Simply this,—say nothing. But these facts serve to show that silence was not accidental; nor did grow out of the belief that the subject is of slight importance. We affirm it, and challenge authoritative denial,—that the Democracy of this State deliberately avoided all mention of the Tariff issue, because they are in sympathy with the Free Trade sentiments of their party elsewhere, and were afraid to utter their views here. Also that they are in sympathy with a general agreement of their party to favor Free Trade legislation in Congress.

And why this sudden interest in Free Trade? There is, in New York, an offshoot of the British Free Trade League, an institution that has been accredited with spending considerable sums of money to influence Congressional legislation on this subject. That this organization is particularly alive to the importance of Free Trade legislation is proven by a series of indisputable facts. In all the negotiations attending the Washington Treaty, the question of a Reciprocity Treaty with Canada was artfully held in view. Whatever else was yielded, that was never overlooked. It did not, at the moment, seem to be invested with large importance, and was less critically considered by our Representatives than it would have been had its full scope been understood. For fourteen years efforts had been made to secure Free Trade, through the legitimate channel, the House of Representatives. It had failed, and it was thus arranged to bring forward this treaty late in the session of Congress, demand that it be sent in, and then force it through the Senate before it could be critically considered. That it was not a Canadian movement is proven by two facts. Canada has almost unanimously declared she does not want it,—and England presses it. Furthermore, it involves, once granted, absolute Free Trade with the world,—as all the Governments having the favored clause, in their treaty with us, could claim all the advantages we would accord to Canada. But the Treaty has been so received, by Republican Senators in Congress, and the Republican press, that its defeat is a foregone conclusion. What then?

Their only hope is in the House of Representatives. While they will do their best to improve the strength of their friends in the United States Senate, their ultimate hope is in the House. It is vastly to the interest of the Free Trade League to have the aid of the Democracy; and it was clearly to the interest of the Democracy to have the financial aid of the League. What more natural than that they should unite on the basis of mutual interest? We cannot, of course, be presumed to know the secret bargains between the Democracy and the League; but we do know something of the efforts of that organization to obtrude its views on the Republican party, and it is not strange or unlikely that it and the Democracy have joined hands. When all the utterances of the Democracy, even in Maine, are Free Trade, and even the Pennsylvania Democracy say nothing against it, is there not room for suspicion? We fully believe that such an alliance as we have described has been arranged.

This being the fact, the programme is as follows: First, to bring every possible influence to bear to pass the Reciprocity treaty next Winter. This failing, as it undoubtedly will, the hope is to carry a Democratic majority into the House of Representatives. On the 4th of March the new Congress can organize. It is then in the power of the House to stop all methods of raising revenue, unless the Senate agree in some of its pet measures. It can cut short appropriations of all kinds, allow White Leagueism to become rampant at the South, and in various ways embarrass the country, until it force its measures. And Pennsylvania is the battle ground where the heaviest of this battle is to be fought. We solemnly assure our readers that we have rarely been brought face to face with more important issues. And there is no course open but to put aside lethargy, and resolutely work till election day. General Negley and Colonel Bayne, in the districts of the two cities, Dr. Lawrence in the Washington and Beaver district, Harry White in the Twenty-fifth, J. G. White in Crawford district, and Republicans always should be elected.

The Pittsburgh GAZETTE, one of the best of that city's admirable journals, has donned a new dress of type, and while this addition to the paper's attractions was hardly necessary to make it more valued by its readers, still when a paper can be handsome and good at once it might as well be done.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

MODERN CHRISTIANITY, a Civilized Heathenism. By the author of "The Fight at Dame Europa's School." Published by Wm. F. Gill & Co., Boston.

This is a book written with singular power, and designed to show that nothing but a literal imitation of Christ—the following of him in his grief over ruined humanity, in his never faltering rebuking of worldliness, in his ceaseless prayers, and tears, and work for the salvation of the people, in his giving up of all but the actual necessaries of life—that nothing short of this is Christianity; hence the modern Christianity of ease is nothing but civilized Heathenism. The idea is developed in a conversation between an Infidel and a clergyman, and is not encumbered with dry theology, but goes directly to the heart of the subject. It is written with a remarkable power and felicity of expression, and is a rare volume, either as a literary production or an argument on Christian responsibility—although the author carries his idea to an unwarranted length,—and an impassible one too.

WEST LAWN AND THE RECTOR OF ST. MARKS, by Mrs. Mary J. Holmes. Published by G. W. Carleton & Co., New York. For sale in Pittsburgh by J. R. Weldin & Co.

There are two stories in this book—love stories of the easy, graceful class that do to while away an idle hour. The first, West Lawn, is given in the form of a woman's diary, showing how she was wooed and won by a country disciple of Esculapius, who, however, had all the conventional excellencies necessary for the hero of a romance. The second story tells how a country Rector loved a fair parishioner, but the match was prevented for a time by an intriguing aunt, though it all winds up happily in the end. While there is much that is twaddle in both stories, they are pure in sentiment.

CHRISTIAN THEOLOGY FOR THE PEOPLE. By Willis Lord, D. D., LL. D., late President Wooster University. Published by Robert Carter & Bros., New York.

This is a well written compendium of Theology—rather Calvinistic in its leanings, but generally fair in its treatment of all systems. It is very methodically arranged, is written in an elevated, charitable spirit, and is the product of a mind filled with knowledge of the subject. All technical terms are avoided, and the general reader who desires to get brief but comprehensive views of leading theological systems will find this book valuable.

TESTED; OR, HOPE'S FRUITION. A story of Woman's Constancy. By Celia E. Gardiner. Published by G. W. Carleton & Co., New York. For sale in Pittsburgh by J. R. Weldin & Co.

A love story of the most approved order, full of foolish sentimentalizings, and replete with descriptions of social parties, "best society," ad libitum until the heroine, who is an angel without wings, is united to an Apollo of the most marvelous description.

SCEPTERS AND CROWNS. By the author of "The Wide, Wide World." Published by Robt. Carter & Bros., New York.

This is a pleasant story for children, showing the rewards that come from doing right. It is entirely free from the "gush" too often found in such volumes, and it tells the way of doing right in a style that is charmingly fresh and attractive for old as well as the young.

TAKE A PEEP. The Beckoning Series, Illustrated. Published by Lee & Shepard, Boston.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE.

The publishers announce that "Every Saturday" has been merged into the Living Age, the change to take effect Nov. 1, 1874. This leaves the Age the only weekly publication of the character in the country, and will add to its strength. The Age has stood unrivalled in its field for thirty years, and has become an invaluable adjunct to the weekly literature of the well read man. Messrs. Littell & Gay, publishers, Boston, announce fresh attractions for the coming year. The Age is one of the most entertaining and instructive periodicals in the world, and seems to improve, rather than deteriorate, with age.

A BAD MAN in Troy dropped a nickel, which had been heated for the purpose, into the extended palm of an organ grinder the other day, and forthwith there stole out on the air certain soft Italian accents as melodious as the tunes of an Æolian harp. Never before did the people of Troy have a just appreciation of the beauty of that language, and now they are all going to study Italian, so they can swear with grace and fluency.

IT IS related of a Wilmington delegation which visited Mr. Lincoln during the war, that the spokesman, a very tall gentleman, who made a capital run for Congress a few years ago, repeatedly called the President's attention to the fact that he was from the northern end of the State. Lincoln listened patiently, and calmly submitted to a dozen iterations of the statement of locality. When the speaker was through, however, he quietly and closely scanned the herculean form which towered above his own, then, as if overpowered by its proportions, but with a quaint expression in his eye, remarked to its owner: "If you are from the northern end of Delaware aren't you afraid the State will tilt up while you are away?"

A rope an inch in diameter will bear about two and a half tons; but in practice it is not safe to subject it to a strain of more than about one ton. Half an inch in diameter the strength will be one-quarter as much; a quarter of an inch, one-sixteenth as much; and so on.

Glove-Making in France.

In France not less than 12,000 women are employed in the glove trade in the department of the Loire alone. In the Grenoble factory there are 1,200 who cut the gloves, making on an average four hundred and fifty dozen a year. A single house at Chaumont (Haute Marne) employs 2,051 stitchers. There are three separate kinds of work in glove-making—cutting, stitching and finishing. Men usually do the cutting; but lately they have employed at the Grenoble manufactories four hundred or five hundred women, who place the leather upon the iron hand, cut it with the aid of a balancier and prepare it for sewing. The stitchers are paid for one dozen single-buttoned ladies' gloves four francs fifty centimes (90 cents), and for two-buttoned gloves four francs seventy-five centimes (95 cents). The mistress deducts fifty centimes, and the workwoman is obliged to furnish the silk, at a cost of about forty centimes; three francs thirty centimes (66 cents) remain for one dozen pairs, or thirty centimes (6 cents) a pair. A good worker can make at most four pairs a day, but the majority of women do not make more than two and a half.

THE FARM AND HOUSEHOLD.

A BUTTER-MAKER WITHOUT COWS.

An old lady who lived on a little place in the country, not many thousand miles from Newburgh, was noticed for her many eccentricities. She was worth quite a little sum, but was exceedingly penurious. Curious stories were told of the way she turned, sometimes, an honest penny. Among the other peculiarities, she was known to make and sell a considerable quantity of butter when not a cow did she own or keep. The thing was not enveloped in a mystery; as at first might be imagined. For—although we don't say she milked her neighbors' cows—we do know that some one or two cows of some one or other of the farmers near by were found "dry" in the morning. One owner of a nice lot of milkers was much exercised over his loss, and, pondering on the thing, he remembered that sometimes one, again two, of the cows in the outside stalls nearest the door of his stable, were always the ones who thus failed to give the desired quantity of the fluid. A thought possessed him. Among his cows was a handsome young heifer. She was a very fine animal and gave the best of milk; but she was ugly; she was vicious; bad. Not one, not even the members of his family, could go near her. No one but himself. They usually put that cow in the far stall way in, behind the others. But he wouldn't do so this night, he would put her on the outside near the door. As he did this he said, "boys, we'll see if that cow is milked in the morning." The boys took the hint and joined in the chuckle of the old man. Well, to make a short yarn long, the next morning the old lady appeared with her arm in a sling. It was badly bruised, likewise her shoulder. She didn't use it again for months. She told how she had fallen down stairs, how narrowly she had escaped a broken neck the evening before. But the farmer tells that his heifer did it. Suffice it, his cows don't go "dry" any more, and haven't since. Neither was the heifer milked.

WASHING.

Muslin dresses, even of the most delicate colors, can be cleaned in ten minutes or a quarter of an hour without losing their color. Melt half a pound of soap in a gallon of water, empty it into a washing-tub; place near two other large tubs of clean water, and stir into one a quart of bran. Put the muslin in the soap, turn it over and knead it a few minutes; squeeze it out well, but do not wring it, lest it get torn; rinse it about quickly in the bran for a couple of minutes. Rinse again well for a couple of minutes in clean water. Squeeze out dry and hang it between two lines. A clear, dry day should be chosen to wash muslin dresses. Half a dozen may be done this way in half an hour. The last rinse may be prepared in the same way as the rinses for woolen fabrics. A colored pattern on a white ground must not be blued. The bran may here be dispensed with. When the dress is dry make the starch; for a colored muslin white starch, and unboiled, but made with boiling water, is best for muslin dresses. Stir the starch with the end of a wax candle; dip the dress; hang it again to dry. When dry rinse it quickly and thoroughly in clear water; hang it to dry again; sprinkle and roll it up; afterward iron it with very hot irons. Hot irons keep the starch stiff. This rinsing after starching is called clear-starching; none of the stiffness, but much of the unsightliness of the starch is removed in this way. The advantage of thus cleansing dresses instead of washing them is, first, if colored, the process is so rapid that there is not time for the colors to run; secondly, the fabric is not rubbed, and therefore not strained and worn out; thirdly, the process saves nearly all labor, and is so quickly done that any lady may manage it for herself in the absence of a laundry-maid or a lady's maid.—Household Guide.

PLAIN DIET.

This is what children ought on every account to be accustomed to from the first; it is vastly more for their present health and comfort than little nice things, with which fond parents are so often apt to vitiate their appetites, and it will save them a great deal of mortification in after life. If you make it a point to give them the best of everything; to pamper them with rich cakes, sweetmeats and sugar plums; if you allow them to say with a scowl, "I don't like this or that," "I can't eat that," and then go away and make them a little toast, or kill a chicken for their dainty palates—depend upon it you are doing a great injury, not only on the score of destoying a full muscle and rosy cheek, but of forming one of the most inconvenient habits that they can carry along with them in after life. When they come to leave you they will not half the time find anything they can eat—and thus you will prepare them to go chafing and grumbling through life, the veriest slaves almost in the world.

Mothers, listen and be warned in time, for the time will come when you will repent; seeing your sons and daughters make their homes miserable by complaint, and raising their children up in the same way.

ADVICE TO A BEGINNER.

One young man says he has a market for early potatoes and for choice tomatoes. I will venture to advise him to try one acre; plow in March and furrow three and a half feet apart; plant two rows of potatoes, skip one row, plant four rows and skip one, and so on until he gets through. Then in the vacant rows make the hills six or eight feet apart; in which work in with a spade four or five shovelfuls of manure. Early in May, dig these hills over again, and set out good strong tomato vines. When the potatoes are ripe, dig from the tomatoes first, and be careful to level the earth; keep the land loose and clear from weeds. Another asks how many tomatoes can I raise from one vine. My answer is that I do not know, and if I did I would not publish it, as it would not be credited by any one who had not tried it; but if you wish to know how many can be raised, dig in plenty of manure in a hill four feet across, and keep the vines mellow and clean around the vines until October.—James P. Swain, in Country Gentleman.

WET BOOTS.

A friend writes from Europe: What an amount of discomfort wet boots entail, to be sure; and how well we all recall the fretful efforts we have now and then made to draw on a pair of hard baked ones which were put by the fire over night to dry. Damp and adhesive within, they are without stiff and unyielding as horn. Once on, they are a sort of modern stocks, destructive of all comfort, and entirely demoralizing to the temper. The following simple device will rob the cold, wet barnyard of a slushy Winter or Spring evening of half its promise of discomfort for the next morning.

When the boots are taken off, fill them quite full with dry oats. This grain has a great fondness for damp, and will rapidly absorb the last vestige of it from the wet leather. As it takes up the moisture it swells and fills up the boot with a tightly-fitting last, keeping its form good, and drying the leather without hardening it. In the morning, shake out the oats and hang them in a bag near the fire to dry, ready for the next wet night, draw on the boots, and go happily about the day's work.—Am. Agriculturist.

KEEPING PEARS AND APPLES.

The apples and pears should be placed in glazed earthen vessels, each containing a gallon, and surrounding each fruit with paper. These vessels being perfect cylinders, about a foot each in height, stand very conveniently upon each other, and present the means of preserving a large quantity of fruit in a very small room; and if the spaces between the top of one vessel and the base of another be filled with a cement, composed of two parts of the curd of skimmed milk, and of lime, by which the air will be excluded, the later kinds of apples and pears will be preserved with little change in their appearance, and without any danger of decay, from October till February and March. A dry and cold situation, in which there is little change of temperature, is the best for the vessels; but the merits of the pears are greatly increased by being taken from the vessels about ten days before they are wanted for use, and kept in a warm room, for warmth at this, as at other periods, accelerates the maturity of the pear.—Germantown Telegraph.

The Hygienic Power of the Sun.

Sleepless people—and there are many in America—should court the sun. The very worst soporific is laudanum, and the very best is sunshine. Therefore it is very plain that poor sleepers should pass as many hours of the day in sunshine, and as few as possible in the shade. Many women are martyrs, and you do not know it. They shut the sunshine out of their houses and hearts, they wear veils, they carry parasols, they do all that is possible to keep off the subtlest and yet most potent influence which is intended to give them strength, and beauty and cheerfulness. Is it not time to change all this, and so get roses and color in our pale cheeks, strength in our weak backs, and courage in our timed souls? The women of America are pale and delicate; they may be blooming and strong, and the sunlight will be a potent influence in this transformation.

Irish Agricultural Statistics.

According to the report of the Registrar-General, in the space allotted to General Abstracts of Agricultural Statistics, it appears that of the 20,325,693 acres which comprise the area of Ireland, there are 5,257,839 acres under crops. There are 10,472,161 acres of grass land, 12,187 acres of fallow, and of wooded land 322,885 acres. The space covered by bogs and waste lands is 4,250,621 acres. In the live-stock department we find that there are 525,770 horses; cattle, meaning bullocks and cows, 4,118,113; sheep, 4,427,613; and pigs, 1,096,494. The total value of live stock is estimated at $186,129,435. A curious thing in this report is the statement in relation to the loss from the prevalence of weeds. This loss, the Registrar-General says, foots up the large sum of $15,000,000 annually. All agricultural products have decreased in quantity during the past year.

THE MARRIAGE NOTICE.

An Interesting Question—Those Contemplating Matrimony.

A correspondent puts the following query to the editors of the New York Evening Post:

In the body of a marriage notice, should the name of the man or of the woman have precedence? I hold that where the conjunction "and" is used the man's name should be first; that is, John Smith and Mary Jones. But if the preposition "to" be employed, the man's name comes last; that is, Mary Jones to John Smith. I base this latter form on the meaning of the word "marriage." A man marries a woman but a woman is married to a man. Furthermore, our marriage service says: "Who giveth this woman to be married to this man?" A.

ANSWER.

"To Marry" is a verb whose loose and irregular use is proverbial. In its transitive sense it is ordinarily applied to the act of the clergyman or magistrate who solemnizes the union of a man and woman in wedlock, or to the parent or guardian who brings about or sanctions it. If the word "married" which usually stands at the head of the list of weddings in a newspaper, be taken in its transitive sense, the weight of authority seems to favor the precedence of the woman's name in the body of the notice. In connection with the whole subject embraced in A.'s letter, we quote the following paragraph from Mr. Richard White's "Words and their Uses:" "I have no hesitation in saying that all of these forms (John Smith to, and, and with Mary Jones) are incorrect. * * * The woman is married to the man. It is her name that is lost in his, not his in hers; she becomes a member of his family, not he of hers. * * * it is a life that is merged, or supposed to be merged, in his, not his in hers; she follows his fortunes, and takes his station, not he hers. * * So long, at least, as man is the larger, the stronger, the most individually important, so long as woman generally lives in her husband's house and bears his name—it is the woman who is married to the man. Nubo; viro trador: to be married to a man. For it is in the woman's part only.' (Lilly's Grammar.)—In speaking of the ceremony it is proper to say that he married her (duxit in matrimonio), and not that she married him, but that she was married to him; and the proper form of the announcement is: Married, Mary Jones to John Smith. The etymology of the word agrees entirely with the conditions of the act which it expresses. To marry is to give or to be given, to a husband, mari." The spirit of the English common law, and the conventional usages of society, both bear out Mr. White's conclusions on this matter.

A LULLABY.

BY J. G. HOLLAND.

Rockaby, lullaby, bees in the clover!—
Crooning so drowsily, crying so low—
Rockaby, lullaby, dear little rover!
Down into wonderland—
Down to the under-land—
Go, oh go!
Down into wonderland go!

Rockaby, lullaby, rain on the clover!
Tears on the eyelids that waver and weep;
Rockaby, lullaby—bending it over
Down on the mother-world,
Down on the other world!
Sleep, oh sleep!
Down on the mother-world sleep!

Rockaby, lullaby, dew on the clover!
Dew on the eyes that will sparkle at dawn!
Rockaby, lullaby, dear little rover!
Into the stilly world—
Into the lily-world
Gone, oh gone!
Into the lily-world, gone!

We beg leave to offer to the public our
which is Anti-freezing and Inodorous. It is the most durable Closet in the market, for the following reasons: It will not freeze. It is strictly self-acting. It does not cause any re-acting and bursting of pipes. It is free from all obnoxious odors, and therefore will improve the sanitary condition of our cities. It has no valves to get out of repair and leak.
With our valuable improvement obnoxious cesspools in yards are dispensed with, as direct communication is made with the sewer pipe.
The public are invited to call at our salesroom, and examine this valuable improvement in operation, where its [illegible] advantages can be seen at a glance, or send [illegible] circular containing full particulars.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, October 21, 1874.

The same activity heretofore noticed continues at the banks,—the paper offered indicating increased business activity. Yet we occasionally meet with manufacturers and others who report a depressed condition of the market, so far as their particular experience is concerned. It seems to be quite certain that current collections are not being so easily made as they were in July, and that in such matters there are indications of tightness. But that the general volume of business is increasing is shown by several facts. In addition to those mentioned we observe that the same evidences of improvement are found in other cities. The Chicago Inter-Ocean says of that city, "The prominent features of the local money market this week have been the continued abundance and the low rates of interest for money, and the large amount of bank clearings. The latter is regarded as a very flattering indication of the general activity of trade. This week the aggregate was nearly $27,000,000, which is not only larger than the corresponding week last year, but larger than any previous week this year, and larger than the corresponding week of 1872. It now seems probable that the clearings for October will be larger than in any previous October, thus showing that trade is more active now than ever before at this season of the year." The New York Tribune mentions a probable cause of depression in certain localities, and for a brief time. It says "the general trade of the city has been comparatively light and at declining prices for most kinds of merchandise, the mercantile failures during the week having had a depressing effect upon business."

Bank of Pittsburgh stock was sold last evening by A. McIlwaine, Auctioneer, at his stock sale room, 106 Smithfield street, for $68.

—The Philadelphia Ledger gives the following as to the coal trade for the past week: The total of anthracite marketed for the week ending on the 10th instant amounted to 481,083 tons, and for the coal year 14,465,587 tons, against 15,791,291 tons to corresponding time last year, being a decrease of 1,325,704 tons. The bituminous tonnage for the week is 74,224 tons, and for the year 2,605,598 tons, against 2,539,940 tons to same time last year, giving a total of all kinds for the week of 555,307 tons, and for the year of 1071,185 tons, against 18,271,231 tons to the same time last year, being a decrease of 160,042 tons. At Port Richmond for the week ending the 17th inst., the receipts of coal were 72,000 tons, the shipments 58,90 tons, leaving 92,000 tons on hand. The coal and coke tonnage of the Pennsylvania railroad last week was 89,999 tons, and for the year, 2,420,078. Of anthracite and bituminous there were 2,036,919 tons, and of coke 364,59 tons. This includes the tonnage of coal both east and west. Vessels during the past week have been in fair supply, with freights unchanged. We quote $1.35 to Providence, $1.60 to Boston, and 95 cents to New York. The coal production the past week was something larger, but the condition of the market was unchanged, with the exception of a slightly increased demand for the smaller sizes. The supply of cars in the Schuylkill region was a little short of the demand, but that is a standing complaint. At all times, at all seasons, some one would like more cars than are at the moment at hand. It is understood that the programme made at the beginning of the year for the control of the coal trade, that of monthly advancing the prices, will be carried out for the month of November.

—The Secretary of the Treasury has directed that the interest falling due on the 1st of November be paid with rebate on and after this date till the 25th instant, from which time it will be paid without rebate.

NEW YORK, October 20, 1874.

The Treasury disbursements were $29,000, and the customs receipts $201,000. The produce exports for the week were $5,552,953; total exports since January 1st, $235,651,962. Money advanced to 4 per cent. Mercantile paper is unchanged. Sterling was strong at 485@485¼ for sixty days and 488½@489 for sight. Gold ranged 110@110¾, and closed at 110½. The borrowing rates ranged 4 to 7 per cent. per annum, and 1-32 per day. The clearances were $24,000,000. State bonds were quiet and nominal. Railroad bonds were quiet and firm. Governments were firm, with small sales. The syndicate completed its November settlement with the Government by turning in $15,000,000 called bonds and coupons. Stocks were heavy; in early dealings declined ¼@1¾, Wabash leading the fall. After the first board the market became steadier, with a slight improvement in the whole list. Near the close prices declined ½@2 per cent. from the highest prices of the day and the market closed unsettled and weak. The decline was most marked in Wabash. The sales of the day aggregated 170,000 shares, of which 15,000 were Western Union, 11,000 Pacific Mail, 18,000 Erie, 57,000 Lake Shore, 26,000 Union Pacific, 7,000 Northwestern, 23,000 Wabash, 7,000 Ohios, and 8,000 C. Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

PITTSBURGH DAILY MARKETS.

The markets continue fairly active, we are reported a steady consumptive demand for the leading staples, and notwithstanding orders are mostly small, there is a very fair business in the aggregate. It is worthy of notice that the receipts of general merchandise from the west are steadily increasing; the business of the Fort Wayne Road is heavier at this point than it has been at any time since the panic; there were three hundred cars of freight reported at the outer depot to-day, waiting for room to come forward, which is something unusual, and, consequently, deserving of mention. The Cleveland & Pittsburgh, as well as the Pan-handle Roads, are also doing a good business, and the indications just now are that they will have all they can do during balance of the year.

APPLES—The market is well supplied and prices are unchanged: $1.50@2.50 ₱ bbl.

APPLE BUTTER—In kegs, 60@65 ₱ gallon.

BEANS—Quiet and unchanged; mediums, $2@2.25; navies, $2.40@2.50 ₱ bushel.

BUTTER—The market continues fairly active, but the supply is fully equal to present requirements and prices remain unchanged; prime to choice roll, 33@35.

CHEESE—The market is firm with a steady demand, and the recent advance is fully sustained; Ohio Factory, 16@16½; New York do, 17@17½.

CRANBERRIES—Selling at from $10@15 ₱ bbl, as to quality.

CHESTNUTS—Coming in freely and prices are weak and lower; $3@3.50 ₱ bushel.

EGGS—The market is fairly supplied and prices are weak but unchanged; 22 to 23 cents for strictly fresh.

FLOUR—The market continues dull and prices are weak but without important change. Spring wheat flours, $6@6.25 for Wisconsins; and $6.50@6.75 for Minnesotas; red winters, $6@6.50; white ditto, $6.75@7.25. Rye Flour, $5.75.

GROCERIES—Trade in the leading grocery staples, so far at least as our market is concerned, continues dull, and there is not much prospect at this writing that there will be any immediate change for the better. Sugars are firm but quiet. Coffee is still reported strong, but operators have but little confidence in the immediate future of the market, and jobbers, as a rule, are buying very sparingly, having resolved for the present to carry no more stock than is absolutely necessary to keep up their trade. Molasses and Syrups quiet and unchanged.

GRAIN—The arrivals of new Ear Corn continue liberal, but as the most of that now coming forward is in better condition, it is more saleable and the market is steadier; prices are ranging from 60 to 65 cents ₱ bushel, as to quality and condition. Old Ear is very dull, and it is difficult to quote, as there is very little demand for it. Old Shelled is also quiet and drooping, notwithstanding it is in light stock; quotable at 83@86—sale one car at 84. Rye is quotable at $1@1.05—sale two cars, from first hands, at $1. Wheat continues quiet and unchanged; Penna and Ohio red, $1.12@1.15; and amber and white, $1.18@1.20. The Chicago Tribune says: "Wheat in Chicago is fearfully low—for the farmer. It would not seem very bad to quote it at 88 cents, if that were the price on the farm. But 88 cents here means not more than 50c in Nebraska, and as low as 42c for No. 3 in Lincoln in that State. The farmers there who are obliged to sell at that price to keep the Sheriff away, find that the product of a 10-acre patch only removes him a few inches farther from their doors. The bears, who profess to be working in the interest of the widow and orphan, will no doubt take courage from this fact, even if they do not find any satisfaction in it. And the Wheat crop is almost the sole dependence of the Nebraska farmers this year."

HONEY—Clover, in boxes, 25.

HAY—There is no improvement to note in the demand for baled, and with a large supply, which is steadily accumulating, the market continues dull, although prices remain about as last quoted, ranging from $17 to $20, according to quality and condition.

ONIONS—Selling at $3@4 ₱ bbl.

OILS—No. 1 winter strained Lard Oil, $1.12@1.15. Linseed, 83@85 and steady. Carbon Oil is quotable at 10@10½ by the carload, and 1@2c additional for smaller lots.

POTATOES—Are coming in more freely, and the market is easier, but prices remain about as last quoted—90@95 by the car load, on track. Sweets dull and lower; $3@4 ₱ bbl, the outside figure for prime Jerseys.

PROVISIONS—There is a steady demand, it is fully up to what it usually is at this particular time, while as regards prices, there has been no important changes within the past day or two, although the tendency is upward.

POULTRY—Live chickens are coming in more freely, but prices remain about as last quoted, ranging from 50@65c ₱ pair, by the coop, according to size.

SEEDS—There is not enough doing in any kind of Seed to establish quotations.

TALLOW—Country, 7@7½; city, 8@8½.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, Oct. 20, 1874.

Business in Crude Petroleum continues very quiet, and the market, in a general way, presents but little that is new or important; immediate shipment is still quoted at 90c ₱ barrel. From a reliable party, engaged in the business at Parker, and who arrived from there to-day, we learn that tankers are still buying, but that Cleveland and New York, as well as Pittsburgh refiners, are taking hold very sparingly; he is impressed with the belief that the production continues to hold its own, while as regards stocks, according to our informant, they are unprecedently large; he thinks there is enough oil above ground now to run the country a year, even if every well was stopped. Refined was very quiet to-day, and prices were nominally unchanged; 11¾ delivered in Philadelphia—the last sale reported on Baltimore account, was at 9⅞, deliverable at the Connellsville depot. The stock in Philadelphia warehouses is reported as being 48,000 bbls in excess of tankage—however, it is not so large at New York.

The Barrel trade continues quiet and unchanged; country quotable at $1.30, and city make, $1.40.

New York Breadstuffs Market—Weekly Review.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—This day week we left our Wheat market quite dull and heavy, under liberal offerings here, large arrivals at the lake ports, and unfavorable advices from Europe. Since then the same causes have continued to depress the market, restrict transactions, and unsettle values, and we have again to note a further decline in both Spring and Winter. At the concession a more active demand has prevailed for export, for milling, and for investment. Most holders have shown a disposition to meet the demand promptly, especially for Common and Medium qualities, of which our receipts largely consist; these being of a doubtful character, have added greatly to the heaviness and difficulty of effecting sales, while straight No 2 Spring has been better sustained and is comparatively scarce. The habit of mixing Wheat at Chicago and Milwaukee after it has left the Inspector's hands is a growing evil; indeed it is a fraud that should not be tolerated for a moment longer; it is clearly a very serious injury to the trade, and it seems to us it calls for prompt action on the part of our Board of Trade. A rigid and honest inspection here is now imperatively demanded, and we trust our Grain merchants will at once act in this matter. It is admitted by all intelligent dealers that an honest inspection here would be of immense value to the trade, and it is to be hoped there will be no further delay in accomplishing an object so desirable. Winter Wheat has been pressed for sale and has slightly declined; at the concession we have had a better milling and export demand. The decline in White has been the most marked, and since Wednesday we have had a more active movement with some concession in freights, and have added but little to our stock, which is now 2,165,959 bush, against 1,204,140 bush the corresponding time last year. The Wheat in sight is 11,013,375 bush, against 9,387,450 bush the corresponding time time last year. From San Francisco down to the 8th inst. we learn the shipments from that point thus far this month to Great Britain had fallen off greatly as compared with the last week in September, but the exports to other foreign ports continued good, considerably in excess of last year. The movement in Spring Wheat on the upper lakes has been large, but after this month a great falling off is inevitable. The receipts of Winter Wheat at Toledo and Detroit is falling off. The exports of the week are 369,410 bush including 714,377 bush to Continental ports, against 1,786,216 bush the corresponding week last year. We look for low ocean freights during the winter, and expect to close navigation with less than three and a half million bushels.

Since this day week we have had a more active and very general demand for Flour, the liberal arrivals, present and prospective, and the further considerable decline in Wheat, coupled with the less favorable advices from Europe, have given buyers some advantage daily, a decline in commercial sterling adding to the heaviness. The arrivals of Winter Wheat brands have been liberal, and to effect sales promptly holders have made a material concession, and we are pleased to notice a brisk shipping demand for Fair to Choice Winter Wheat brands for the trade and for Great Britain. The various brands of Flour selling at $6 ₱ barrel are of excellent quality, and we find London shippers are buying them quite freely, and notwithstanding the large arrivals we have not added materially to our stock. The Flour now selling at $6 ₱ barrel brought $7.75@8 last year, and the quality is almost invariably excellent; at its present value it is cheaper than at any time for twenty years, and we find it almost invariably gives excellent satisfaction. A good business has been done in shipping State and Western at $5.10@5.17½, and in Western at $5.65@5.20, and liberal purchasing of first grinding Amber Winter Wheat brands at $5.50@5.75, and we find this description is growing in favor in Great Britain very generally, as well as the Continent. In City Ground a fair business has been done for the West Indies at $5.70@6 ₱ bbl for a good substantial Flour of good body, and high ground No. 2 and Superfine have been offered more freely, and with a moderate Local and Provincial demand have declined and close quiet. New Minnesota Extras have arrived more freely, and are of excellent quality, but are too soft for present use, but with more age we doubt not they will give satisfaction and meet with a better demand. Old Minnesota is in restricted supply, and is firmly held, though the demand has not been very active, it being high as contrasted with Choice Winter Wheat brands of good body. The exports for the week are 37,822 bbls, against 42,531 bbls, the corresponding week of last year.—Tribune.

GEORGE H. ROHE,
Sergeant, Signal Service, U. S. A.

The stage of water last evening was about 20 inches and falling. Weather mild and pleasant; prospects of a rise, we regret to state, continue discouraging.

The case of the owners of the L. C. McCormick, charged with a violation of the steamboat law, in carrying more passengers than she was allowed by her license, was on trial yesterday. A verdict of guilty was rendered on two charges and the defendants fined seven hundred dollars.

The case of A. D. Reno, charged with piloting without a license, which has been pending for two years, came up yesterday, and defendant found guilty. Sentence deferred.

The grand jury found five true bills against Com. W. J. Kountz, on Monday, for libel. The charges were made by Capts. W. S. Evans, D. S. H. Gilmore, S. B. Coulson and Messrs. Martin Coulson and John B. Dallas. The libel complained of was an article which originally appeared in a Washington City paper and afterwards copied into the Allegheny Mail, reflecting very seriously on the character of the complainants, which, it is alleged, was written by or at the instigation of Com. Kountz. In addition to these suits of libel we understand that Capt. W. S. Evans contemplates bringing a civil action against the Commodore.

—I. G. Baker, of this city and Benton, has purchased at Helena, Montana, forty thousand pounds of supplies and stores for the Queen's Mounted Police, ordered for duty across the border. The headquarters of the police—numbering 150 men—under command of Major McLeod—are to be established on Belly River, about 240 miles north of Benton, from which point all supplies are to be furnished. Messrs. Baker & Co. have the supply and freighting contracts this year....The wife of Pilot Oscar B. Jollio died in Cincinnati, on Thursday morning, after a brief illness.—St. Louis Dem.

—The Cincinnati Commercial says: From "Occasional" we learn that the suit of Richard Harmon, a river man of Nashville, against Capt. John A. Dix, recently elected Alderman of the First Ward, is for defamation of character. Capt. Dix is one of the largest owners in the B. H. Cooke, Shippers' Own and Eddyville, and for his "push" and financial success he has been dubbed "Old Business by Economy." Both being worthy gentleman, we hope they may adjust their misunderstanding satisfactorily and be happy.

—The Vicksburg Herald gets from engineer Perkins, of the R. E. Lee, the following figures of that boat's fuel bill for the first six trips of the season: First trip, $847; second trip, $680; third trip, $671; fourth trip, $663; fifth trip, $687; sixth trip, $681. From these figures it will be seen that the Lee's average fuel bill has been a fraction over $694 per week thus far this season.

—Buz, in speaking of W. A. Peebles, who is a candidate for Nashville Harbor-master, salary $300 per year, says: He is now in the decline of life, bankrupt in fortune, and needs the kindly assistance of his old friends, all of whom know his besetting sin, and that his faults are manifold; but after all they lean towards Virtue's side.

—The Secretary of the Treasury, at the request of Prof. Winlock, the Chairman, has appointed G. W. Taylor, of the Steamboat Inspection Service, in addition to his present duties, to perform those required of a Secretary to the Commission, to make the necessary experiments to guard against the causes of steam boiler explosions.

—The Kittie Hegler was aground in the Arkansas river several months. Her trials and tribulations have cost Capt. Hegler nearly $10,000, who purchased the hull of her cargo on the present return trip, consisting chiefly of scrap iron. The Captain will have her refitted and enter the coming season with the hope of better luck next time.

—Capt. Wm. Dix, once the great manipulator of the Upper Cumberland Mosquito Fleet, has gained his suit against the city of Nashville for $11,000 damages for falling in a ditch one year ago. Having married, we suppose, to more fully consummate his happiness, he will buy a [illegible].

—The navigable water routes of Russia attain a total length of 34,770 kilometres. Navigation is practicable only two hundred and thirty-nine days in a year on an average. In the North, communications are possible only six and one-half months, and in the South—on an average—nine months.

—Capt. Wm. Dix, once the great manipulator of the Upper Cumberland Mosquito Fleet, has gained his suit against the City of Nashville for eleven thousand dollars damages, for falling in a ditch one year ago.

—The Commonwealth and John A. Scudder, that left New Orleans for St. Louis, Thursday, each had two thousand five hundred sacks coffee. Besides the coffee above mentioned, the Scudder had fourteen hundred barrels sugars.

—Since the defeat of Lord Palmerston for wharfmaster at Nashville he has accepted a government situation of testing and sampling whiskies, and is considered the right man in the right place.

—The Upper Mississippi raft tow-boat Viola is in the hands of the United States Marshal at Dubuque to satisfy seamen's wages to the amount of $707.15.

—At Louisville, Friday, the Argus was sold to the Kentucky River Company for $1,000.

—The Katydid has chartered the Ravenswood and Gallipolis trade, making daily trips.

—The Great Republic will be laid up at Cairo until there is an improvement in business.

—Capt. W. E. Byers will succeed C. H. Arthur & Co. in the agency business at Nashville.

HOME NEWS.

Found Dead.

Last evening about seven o'clock a man by the name of William Blaney was found dead on the railroad track, near Spring Hill station, on the West Penn railroad. It is supposed that he was struck by a passing freight train, as his condition when found was sufficient to warrant such a conclusion. The Coroner was notified, and an inquest will, in all probability, be held to-day.

Another Runaway in Allegheny.

Yesterday afternoon, shortly after three o'clock, as the wife and son of Mr. L. Kreiling, of Allegheny, were driving up Federal street, near Montgomery avenue, the front axle of their buggy broke. They were both thrown out, but escaped with a few bruises. The horse then became frightened and ran off. At the corner of North avenue the buggy collided with a Pleasant Valley street car, badly damaging the car and injuring the buggy considerably. The horse was stopped before any further damage was done.

The Fire on Penn Avenue.

Early yesterday morning a fire broke out in the saloon of Jacob Walters, at No. 646 Penn avenue. It originated under the stairway, and cut off escape for the members of the family. When the Fire Department arrived, ladders were placed to the second story windows and the family rescued by their aid. A little girl who slept in a room at the head of the stairway, barely escaped suffocation. The loss will amount to about $600. The house was owned by John Kearney, and was insured in the Continental of Philadelphia, for $800. The household goods and stock were insured for $1,000 in Allemania.

An Explosion Causing a Slight Fire.

Last evening about eight o'clock a house on the corner of Elm and Clark streets, was the scene of no little excitement. At the time above named one of the inmates took a lighted lamp and went into one of the upper rooms, when an explosion took place, which set fire to the building. The fire was extinguished by a few well directed buckets of water, without calling out the department. Upon examination it was found that the gas in the room had escaped—the pipe being in some manner defective. The house was occupied by a family of Jews, who were thoroughly frightened, together with many of their neighbors.

Horse Thieves Around.

At an early hour yesterday morning some men broke open the stable of Mr. George Kiefer, on Carpenter alley, Allegheny, and stole a valuable horse belonging to Mr. Kiefer. As they were taking him away the horse became fractious, it being a spirited animal, and finally broke loose from the men and ran off. Officer Berberick soon after discovered the robbery and started in pursuit of the thieves. After considerable hunting he recovered the horse, but the thieves escaped. He is still on the lookout with good prospect of capturing them. It is the same party whom he chased on Friday night for trying to enter a house on Chestnut street.

Counterfeiters Sentenced.

Perry Woodward and Angelina Gardner, who were indicted for passing counterfeit money and found guilty, were sentenced to the Western Penitentiary yesterday morning by Judge McCandless, of the United States District Court—the former for one year, and the latter for nine months. In a short speech preceding the sentence, Woodward said that in the matter of being charged with passing counterfeit money, he was innocent and had been made the victim of a base conspiracy on the part of the United States Detectives, or somebody else. He had been dragged from his plow in the State of Illinois, where he was earning an honest living. He added, with peculiar emphasis, that he was neither a lawyer nor an orator, but an honest man.

Trouble With Prisoners.

Considerable trouble is frequently caused in the transporting of prisoners over the West Penn railroad to Claremont, and the patience of both the baggage master and the detective in charge of the prisoners is often severely tested. The only accommodation provided for the culprits is in the baggage car where they occupy a rough board seat in the very midst of the assorted articles that constitute a baggage master's stock in trade. Occasionally a sullen fellow kicks over a basket of produce and then there is surely something to pay. Yesterday Detective Messner had charge of a dozen cases on the way to the workhouse, and for removing a basket from the reach of one of the men he incurred the displeasure of the baggage master. Perhaps it would be more conducive to happiness and pleasure on all sides if a separate department was provided for the prisoners, where, if they wanted to manifest their disposition to kick, they could do so on each other.

A Fine Picture.

There is now on exhibition in the window of Boyd's picture establishment, on Fifth avenue, near Wood street, a very fine portrait in oil of our well-known townsman, Mr. John Lowery. Both in the drawing and the painting, the artist has been eminently successful, and the colors are blended with a remarkable degree of perfection in shade and expression. The effect is true to nature, and the pleasant countenance of our friend Lowery shines out from the canvas with a wonderfully life-like reality. The picture is not, as is too often the case, in such instances, a mere fancy sketch, but is a really perfect representation of the face and expression of the person for whom it was painted. It was the work of Mr. F. P. Day, a rising young artist from Chicago, who is at present stopping with Dr. Gallaher, and performing a like service for the family. If this picture be a fair average of his work, it is not remarkable that the artist, though a comparative stranger here, has his hands full.

THE MISSING PEDDLER.

Excitement at New Brighton—Searching for the Supposed Murdered Man—Pittsburgh Detectives Engaged—No Clue Yet.

A few days ago we gave the particulars of the mysterious disappearance of a young man named George Cooksey from New Brighton. The man had been in partnership with one John Claff in buying and selling produce, and they made New Brighton their headquarters. The last time they were in the town they had in negotiation the renting of a storeroom, but went out together on a purchasing tour before closing the contract. When last seen, the two men were traveling through a wood in a light spring wagon, on Monday, the 28th of last month. A few days afterwards Cooksey's partner, Claff, was seen alone, and soon he left that part of the country rather suddenly and mysteriously, and it was thought he came to this city. The missing man was rather small, and wore a light mustache and was of light complexion. He had about $175 and a gold watch and chain with him at the time.

Since then nothing has been heard of him, and Claff was subsequently traced to Evansburg, Crawford county, where he was working in a saw mil. He wore some of the missing man's clothes, but gave contradictory accounts of where he had last seen Cooksey. He was arrested, and is now confined in the jail at Jefferson, Ashtabula county. After his arrest he made entirely different statements, and his manner seems to have confirmed Cooksey's friends in their suspicion that the missing man had been dealt with. It was known that [illegible] over $100 in cash when he [illegible] it has since been ascer[illegible] not have more than [illegible] ther of Cooksey, [illegible] heir home in [illegible] secured the [illegible] king up the [illegible] obtained at [illegible] Wood street.

PREPARING FOR THE FRAY.

Republican Meeting Last Night in the Franklin Street School House.

A large meeting of the Republican voters of the Eighth ward was held last night in the school house on Franklin street. Mr. Gray presided, and Messrs. Reynolds and Little officiated as Secretaries. After the meeting had been called to order, on motion of Mr. Chalmers a committee consisting of Col. Kilgore, J. Reynolds, John McGimpsey, Henry Cochran, W. J. Mawhinney and Dr. J. Guy McCandless, was appointed to suggest names for Vigilance Committees for each of the four districts of the ward. The gentlemen retired and subsequently submitted a long list of names, which was adopted, and it was also decided that the Vigilance Committees should do challenging duty on election day. Messrs. Chalmers, Knowland and Shore were appointed to procure speakers for a meeting that it is to be held on Saturday evening, at the corner of Webster and Fulton streets. Among the gentlemen who will probably speak on the occasion is Prof. Day, a very able colored orator, now residing at Harrisburg, and formerly one of the faculty of Oberlin College. The voters of the Sixth and Eleventh wards are invited to unite with those of the Seventh and Eighth on Saturday evening.

····Yesterday afternoon a passenger on a Western train on the Fort Wayne Railroad got off at Allegheny, and stated to Officer Williams that he had been robbed of $300, during the short time it took to cross from the Union Depot.

····A team of horses attached to a street car on the Oakland Line, became frightened night before last, and dashed down Grant street at a furious rate, landing the car in front of the St. Nicholas Hotel in rather a broken up condition. No damage was done farther than that above stated.

····Yesterday, Officer Chalfant made an information for larceny against Mrs. McGowan, charging her with being concerned in the robbery of the residence of Orlando Metcalf, Esq., on Bedford avenue, Monday evening. Among the goods stolen were forty pairs of stockings, and a large quantity of childrens' clothing.

····Octave Feuillet, the author of "Temptation," or "Led Astray," commenced life as a journalist, and was successively feuilletonist, novelist, and dramatist. In 1862 he was elected to the Academie to fill the seat left vacant by the death of Scribe, and in 1863 obtained the decoration of the Legion of Honor.

····The frisky fellow, who has renewed his old practices of acting in a grossly indecent way in the vicinity of the Third ward school house, Allegheny, should again receive the tender care of the police, otherwise some of the girls who have been insulted by him, may have to imbue their fair hands in gore, as they are girls of high spirit, and their parents propose to end the matter by furnishing them with revolvers and instructing them in the art of fetching down their game.

····Yesterday morning Mr. Ladley, the agent of the S. P. C. A., made a raid on Second avenue extension, between Frankstown and Hazlewood, and found a number of the worst cases of cruelty to animals that he has come across in this city yet. Assisted by Officer Mike Dean he found six horses unable for work, some of them being literally covered with sores, and hitched up in heavy wagons. Mr. Ladley ordered that the horses at once be taken out. He then took the names of the drivers and owners and this morning will enter proceedings against them for cruelty to animals.

····A young woman engaged as domestic at a house on Locust street, Sixth ward, Allegheny, and who gives her name as Maria Huntsman, attempted to smother her babe (which is just two days old), by pressing a pillow down upon its face. She was observed and the infant rescued in time. It is said that at the time of its birth the mother begged the physician to kill it, and when refused she expressed her intention of putting an end to its life herself. The woman will likely be taken in charge by the poor authorities. She is said to be handsome, and has given evidence by her manners of having occupied a good position in refined society.

····The Committee appointed by the recent Oil Producers meeting at Parker's Landing to communicate with the managers of the railroad lines have published a card in which they say they sent letters to the presidents of the railroads, but, "although nearly two weeks have elapsed since these letters were mailed, we have received no answer. We accordingly, as instructed, call for a public meeting, which will be held at Parker, on Friday the 23d inst. at two o'clock P. M." The Committee further expresses a desire for a full turnout, as the charge has been made that the first meeting did not represent the oil producers, the allegation being that few of the prominent dealers were present.

····Yesterday afternoon one of Mr. R. H. Patterson's carriages was being driven up Anderson street, Allegheny, when the horses frightened at a locomotive nearing the railway crossing and ran away. The Park fence proved no obstacle to their career. They went at it with a bound scattered a panel and two posts, and all as if it had been made of half inch stuff, took the carriage through and made for the entrance leading from Stockton avenue. The horses got through but the carriage stuck. The driver meanwhile had made a flying leap for safety, and came off with a few bruises. The carriage was but slightly damaged, the forward springs being badly used up. The horses escaped with a few scratches.

····The melancholy days have come to that beauteous garden spot of our great city—the lovely park in front of Municipal Hall. The once verdant grass has sadly withered; the old boot-legs, bones, tin cans, cigar stumps, and peanut shells, which plentifully bestrew the ground have put on a sombre autumnal hue; the rippling music of the fountains is hushed; the sweet scented and fragrant flowers have faded; the venerable peanut merchant who peacefully maintained his stand under the shadow of the tower has folded his tent like an Arab, and silently stolen away; a nipping and eager air precludes the usual out-door caucussing that in times past made the spot renowned; and even the feathery songsters have been compelled to warble their last lullaby to soothe the sorrows of the officials within earshot, and then to spread their pinions for a sojourn in more congenial climes. So hath paradasaical loveliness faded, and left nothing but the memory of what "used to was."

TEMPERANCE.

Meeting of the Fifth Avenue Branch Last Evening.

The Fifth avenue branch of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union held a mass meeting in the Sixth Presbyterian Church, corner of Franklin and Townsend streets, last night. Mrs. Tutell presided, and Miss Bynes acted as Secretary. Speeches were made by Rev. Mr. Dermitt, Mrs. Van Horn, Ex-Mayor Little, Dr. McCandless, and others. The addresses were characterized by unusual earnestness, and were made with special reference to the coming election. It was decided at the close of the meeting to canvass each ward, with prohibition tickets, for the purpose of persuading, if possible, a great many, in this way, to go to the ballot box quietly on election day with a temperance ticket in their pockets to deposit in opposition to the liquor interest. It was stated that a call had been made for these tickets, by many who were habitual drunkards, but who desired to lead different lives, and in order to show to the world that their motives were good, intended to take the first step by casting a ballot in favor of total abstinence.

Another mass meeting was appointed for next Tuesday evening, to be held in the Fifth avenue M. E. Church, Rev. J. Grant's. This branch is undoubtedly the most flourishing in the city, having an efficient leader in the person of Mrs. Tutell.

AMUSEMENTS.

Pittsburgh Opera House.

Mrs. Bowers appeared again last night in her superb representation of the character of Lady Audley, and it is a gratification to state that she was greeted by a much larger house than on the previous evening. So strong and powerful is the fascination of her acting that one feels very loth to leave after the play is over. There is nothing stagy, nothing constrained about her. She is easy, finished, graceful, and throws her whole soul into the character she personates. Her facial changes are wonderful. One minute her features show the suppressed rage and fear that posesses her, and the next instant she is all smiles, but the baleful light shooting from her eyes bodes no good to the one attempting to thwart her in obtaining anything toward which her desires point.

To-night Mrs. Bowers appears as Countess de Vardes in "Led Astray."

Library Hall—Janauschek.

Last evening was the second of the Janauschek season at Library Hall, and the house was, as on the first night, crowded to its utmost capacity. The drama selected for the occasion was "Temptation," translated from the French of Octave Feuillet. Another translation of this drama, known as "Led Estray," is going the rounds, and when first produced, some time ago, created a decided sensation. It is a French drama, of the emotional order, and is thoroughly Frenchy in its details and denouement. It is supposed to be a representation of French fashionable society, and if it is, the less said about that society the better. The drama is well written of its class, but its class is not of character to tend to the purity of the stage. The dialogue gives a full play to French wit and repartee, and the "climaxes" are arranged with a knowledge of stage effect that often produces startling tableaux. But with these merits, the moral effect of the drama is anything but healthful, or promotive of purity. To tolerate and look upon as a hero a man who is by nature and disposition a libertine, and who carries on an amour before his whole family, is one of the ridiculous points in this drama. The wife, who is devoid of the common sturdy virtues of every-day life, listens to the tender passion from two persons who approach her in a manner which any lady would revolt from. Yet she receives their proposals, and almost succumbs to their influence. Human nature is weak, no doubt, and the name of woman is frailty, as the poet says, but to seek praise for virtue is to offer a reward for its practice. No honorable wife is considered a heroine for resisting the advances of a seducer; it is her duty to do so, and she can claim no credit for it. The hero in the play comes out of his many intrigues without any scorch of blame, and the audience is led to believe that people may go on indiscriminately in perpetuating a social evil of the most monstrous type, and in the end be held up as examples of the best virtues which the human character is capable of attaining, merely because, after a satiety of indulgence, they acknowledge their errors and seek to redeem themselves from the thraldom in which their passions held them.

So much for the play itself, but the acting was another matter, and these remarks are not intended to detract from the admirable representation of Mme. Janauscheck and her company.

The eminent tragedienne represented Valerie, the Countess, and the drama was of a character to give the fullest opportunity for the display of her peculiar powers. The emotional features of the play are its strong points, and in these Madame Janauschek exhibited a facial expression that was marvelous. Her countenance changing with the conflicting emotions of her soul, told the story of her griefs and fears and joys, in a way that hardly needed the supplement of the spoken word. It was not a superficial show of appearing to be, but for the time the actress seemed to be transformed into the real woman, suffering, tempted, resisting, triumphant—the embodiment of the real character, and every word, and tone, and look, and movement, was intensified with the vividness of actuality. Madame Janauschek seemed not as acting at all, but as living the life which she portrayed, and the spectator could not but forget that it was a play, and think of it as a living reality. It was the perfection of art that made actress and spectator forget art, and live for the time amid the scenes portrayed. It was this exquisite naturalness, in every detail from begining to end, that made the impersonation of Madame Janauschek perfect—made it appear as life, not acting.

Of the rest of the company, in general, it may be said that they did well. The play is one which can be marred or made by a company; it was made last night. The Count de Vardes of Mr. Chaplin was a strong presentation; Miss Fletcher as Helene played with grace and simplicity; Miss Monk brought out the strong features of the Dowager Countess. Mr. Smith as Durel gave to that character all there was in it, and Mr. Morton as Alphonse did well. The others, Miss Montello and Miss Preston, in their representations, kept within the bounds of propriety as became Madames of their years.

Throughout, however, as a specimen of acting, the play was set before the spectators in a way that a drama has seldom been put upon the boards in our city.

This evening closes the season, when Madame Janauschek will play in Deborah (or Leah the Forsaken), and she will doubtless have an audience worthy of her genius.

Fifth Avenue Theatre.

Tony Denier's pantomime troupe attracted another crowded house last night, and the company is increasing so rapidly in popularity that the prospect is good for large audiences throughout the entire engagement. There is nothing but fun from the opening to the close of the performances, and it is very seldom that such an assortment of laughable frolics is presented for the entertainment of this community. All the actors are good; not an exception can be made, and the rapidity and celerity with which they perform some of their tricks is as astonishing as it is funny.

Janauschekities.

JANAUSCHEK is a Roman Catholic.

JANAUSCHEK is a Bohemian—native born.

JANAUSCHEK is liberal in her religious views.

JANAUSCHEK thinks "the Americans are a generous and warm hearted people."

JANAUSCHEK is superstitious about charms and she says all the Slavonic race are.

JANAUSCHEK says we live, we die, and go we cannot tell where—perhaps some other star.

JANAUSCHEK would as soon starve to death as see one of her diamonds on the way to the pawn-shop.

JANAUSCHEK wears six dresses in "Temptation," three in "Mary Stuart" and nine as "Lady Deadlock" and "Hortense."

JANAUSCHEK says her permanent home shall be among the Americans, on the banks of the Hudson or near Washington city.

JANAUSCHEK commenced playing in the city of Prague. She originally intended to become a musician, but broke a glass in her left hand and cut her second finger, disabling her from the piano for two years.

THE NATION TRUST COMPANY.

Large Meeting of Depositors Last Night in the Ralston School House.

Last night a very large meeting of the depositors of the Nation Trust Company was held in the Ralston school house, on Penn avenue. Peter Zern, Esq., presided.

The chairman, from the Committee appointed to wait upon the attorneys for the stockholders, in order to impress upon their minds the necessity of hurrying up the matter of the settlement of the claims of the depositors, and to make application to the Court for permission to distribute the funds now in the hands of Receiver Bailey among the creditors, reported that they had transacted their duty and had been assured that as soon as the legal machinery would allow, a distribution of all the funds on hand would be made.

Messrs Robert Liddell, L. M. Morris and David Mitchell, a committee appointed by the stockholders of the Trust Company to confer with the depositors, were invited to the meeting, and made a statement of the condition of the Nation Trust Company affairs, as follows:

Liabilities	$992,000
Assets	939,000
Deficit	$ 53,000

Due from Cashiers bond $50,000. Some 400 shares of the company have given no mortgages nor anything else to liquidate their dues. A bill in equity will be filed against those shares by the other stockholders as some $160,000 are required from those 400 shares. This if paid with the bond of Cashier Grier will make $210,000. Deduct the deficit of $53,000 from this and $157,000 will remain as the excess over all liabilities to cover the claims of creditors.

The report was received with great favor by the meeting.

A gentleman wanted to know how the mortgages stand.

Mr. Liddell stated that some depositors had visited him and felt alarmed about the standing of the mortgages. Some believed that the mortgages given by the stockholders of the Nation Trust Company would never be paid. He assured the meeting that the mortgages would all be paid with the exception perhaps of one or two cases which are very small.

Mr. Zern said that when the committee took the mortgages they acted very conscientiously. They took mortgages on property only at two-thirds its least value.

Mr. Liddell said that no apprehensions are felt about the first payment coming due in December. Most of the stockholders are worth from four to eight times the value of their mortgages. No one wants to shirk his responsibility. He said his own firm held twenty shares, and the matter has cost them over $60,000 already. All the money due depositors will be paid to the last cent. The stockholders are acting in good faith, and they wanted every depositor to get his dues. The most of the bills receivable and overdrafts which were published in the report of the Receiver are good and will be collected. There is only one man who will perhaps not be able to pay his mortgage, and he is Mr. Lippert, whose property was swept away during the late flood; but that will not be of any consequence, as it was a small mortgage.

Mr. John H. Kerr was of the opinion that the stockholders wanted to act right, and felt sure that the security given will cover all the liabilities, and even if the mortgages are not enough, the property owned by all the stockholders is still responsible. The only trouble was that the money might be tied up for a long time by the machinery of the law, but he hoped that that would not delay the payment long. An article had been published in one of the city papers that Mr. Bailey, the Receiver, had commenced dividing the money on Monday, which was a gross error. Mr. Kerr said that Mr. Baily would make out a schedule of distribution in about two weeks, showing the name of each depositor, the amount due him, and how much will be paid each depositor out of the first distribution. This schedule will be presented to the Court as required by law, and lay there for ten days, open for exceptions which may be made by any interested party; and if no exceptions are made during the ten days, the Court will approve the schedule, and Mr. Bailey will then make a distribution. The time when the distribution takes place will be advertised in the daily papers.

Alderman O'Donnell stated that Mr. Bailey had additional power conferred upon him by the Court, so that he is Auditor now in addition to being Receiver. He impressed upon the minds of all present to be sure and bring their bank books or certificates of deposit to Mr. Bailey, who is auditing the accounts in order to get every depositor's account, correct, and so that justice will be done to all.

A vote of thanks was returned to the Committee, consisting of Messrs. Peter Zern, John H. Kerr, John Byrne, Cornelius O'Donnell and Thomas Rowswell, for the work done by them to secure all the creditors, especially the poor men who were unable to attend to it themselves. On motion adjourned to meet on Tuesday evening, the 17th of November, which will be about the time the distribution is to be made of the money on hands.

OUR RIVER INTERESTS.

Meeting of the Coal Exchange Yesterday—Letter From Col. Merrill—Obstructions in the Monongahela.

A regular meeting of the Coal Exchange was held yesterday forenoon at the corner of Wood and Market streets, Capt. Joseph Walton in the chair. The following communication, read by the Secretary, Capt. Lysle, was received and filed.

U. S. ENGINEER'S OFFICE,
CINCINNATI, September 18, 1874.

MR. A. LYSLE, Secretary Coal Exchange, Pittsburgh, Pa.:—SIR: Yours of the 9th and 14th insts., came to hand during my absence. I reply to them in order.

The list of lights will be laid before the Committee of the Light House Board, which will soon make an inspection of the Western rivers, with a view to locating lights for the improvement of their navigation.

In regard to the bar at the mouth of Saw Mill Run, I regret to have to state that on account of low water I have had to lay up my dredges for the season, and discharge the crews. They are now at Buffington, and cannot be brought up to Pittsburgh, nor even to Marietta, where I wish to lay them up. It is not likely that work will be resumed with them until next spring—then I will endeavor to comply with your request.

As to the dyke recommended above the Parkersburg bridge, I must request further information. You say that you wish it built "at the distance of about 600 feet from the foot of the gravel to the right hand pier above the Parkersburg bridge." My maps do not indicate the gravel of which you speak, and, therefore, I cannot tell how long a dyke you desire.

Will you please give me the length of the dyke, its height above low water, and the method of construction which would answer your purpose. I certianly cannot undertake to build it this season, but I will examine into the cost, &c., when I get more facts as to what you desire.

Your obedient servant,
W. E. MERRILL.

On motion of Capt. J. A. Blackmore, a committee consisting of himself, J. L. Kerr, and G. W. Gray was appointed to ascertain the exact distance, size and length of the dyke referred to in Col. Merrill's letter.

On motion, a committee composed of Captains N. J. Bigley, Simpson Horner, Madison Baily, J. F. Fawcett, A. Lysle, W. O'Neal, Jas. Gilmore and J. P. Smith were appointed to transact the private business of the association.

Capt. Walton stated that the Exchange had notified the city from time to time in regard to the bar caused by the city sewer above the railroad bridge, and other obstructions to navigation by parties placing earth over the water edge, to the serious injury of the channel from that point to Lock No 1, and some action should be taken in the matter. Colonel Merrill had informed him that the city was the responsible party. A committee was appointed to retain a lawyer as solicitor for the Exchange, and to whom all such matters shall be referred.

DEATH OF DR. MURDOCH.

Concluding Testimony at the Inquest—The Verdict.

Yesterday morning the concluding testimony in the inquest on the body of Dr. Murdock was taken. Dr. LeMoyne stated that he with Drs. James King, C. B. King, Rea, McCann and Estep made a post mortem examination of the body, which had been conducted as carefully and thoroughly as time would allow. They examined the brain and found the tissue of it quite healthy. There was some congestion of the vessels connected with it, and some adhesion of the membrane to the skull, which was evidence of a former disease. There were no symptoms indicating recent inflammation. The heart and lungs were examined. The lungs were healthy, and the heart was natural in size and appearance. The tissue of it was rather softer and of a paler hue than usual; but there was nothing found which indicated a sufficient cause for the sudden death. An examination of those abdominal organs essential to a thorough investigation was had. The stomach was removed and transferred to the coroner, and there was no sufficient sign of disease in the kidneys or in any of the organs which would account for the death. There was no difference of opinion among the doctors. There were no perceptible marks of violence on the body, and the cause of death, it seemed, none of the physicians were able to account for.

At the conclusion of the testimony by the physicians the jury rendered a verdict of "death from unknown causes."

Who Owns Second Avenue?

Between the city, the railroads and the poor property holders it is a difficult matter to tell who owns anything, or whether any person owns anything; but one matter is definitely settled beyond a doubt, and that is that no finer, fatter or healthier oysters are to be found in the city than at the stall of Mr. B. Pulpress, No. 45 Diamond Market, Pittsburgh, or corner of Federal and Ohio streets, Allegheny. Mr. Pulpress receives his oysters daily, which are of the most reputable brands. And then the fresh fish, why there is no end to the different kinds of both salt and fresh water fish. All orders by mail promptly filled with the most careful attention. Call at No. 45 Diamond Market and secure some of his luscious oysters for an epicurean dinner to-morrow.
